What do an Iraqi, a Balkan Slav and a Southerner from the US have in common? A burning hatred for the system. Oh, and a podcast.

Say no to eating out of the trash can of ideology. Join us on a journey exploring and critically assessing the perceived “normalcy” of late-stage capitalism. The only truly international, global, and anti-capitalist podcast you’ll find.

I mean... I'm not celebrating (not because I'm against uprisings), because I just know... what came afterwards (and that is really sad to think about)

October 7th was the beginning of a Palestinian revolution against Israel. It is true the Palestinian people have been suffering worse since but their suffering was already unimaginable for 3 quarters of a century before. It will have been worth it in the end

I hope... I just hope that it won't be a failed intifada, followed by a successful nakba (but looking at the world-support, I have high hopes)

Just look at how things are panning out. Since then, Iran, IRAN! what everyone called a pushover and a paper tiger, has bombed the Entity twice and at least until the time of this post, gotten away with it.

The Vietnamese lost millions of people before they were liberated. It's painful. Very painful. I can't go a day without thinking about the people of Palestine, but it will pay in the end. Their sacrifice will not be in vain. Palestine will be free, the Zionist regime will fall, and hopefully drag the US down with it.
